

Learning

Simplify Learning. Develop Every Employee with Quality Training.

People are your most important asset, and developing your employees to their potential is a distinct competitive advantage. An ongoing training strategy also positively impacts recruiting, onboarding and retention when your employees learn new skills, are prepared for emerging business changes, and advance their careers. Yet deploying an effective training strategy at a small & medium business can be a challenge. One-off skills or compliance training can be costly and often only apply to a select group. Effective talent development is automated, trackable, accessible from anywhere, and ongoing.

PiiQ Learning by Cornerstone makes it easy and affordable to make learning a priority for all your employees. Built specifically to meet the learning needs of small & medium businesses, PiiQ is a Learning Management System that is highly engaging for managers and employees, and makes it easy to offer and track learning at all levels. Combined with PiiQ Performance, you have an automated, continuous performance and learning solution that helps managers and employees easily identify needs, develop skills, and grow talent for higher productivity and revenue.

Empower employees

Nurture motivated, high performing employees with training and career development that enables success on the job, and in their lives. Employees can collaborate with managers to create personal learning goals in PiiQ Performance, and browse and self-register for courses in PiiQ Learning.

Close skills gaps

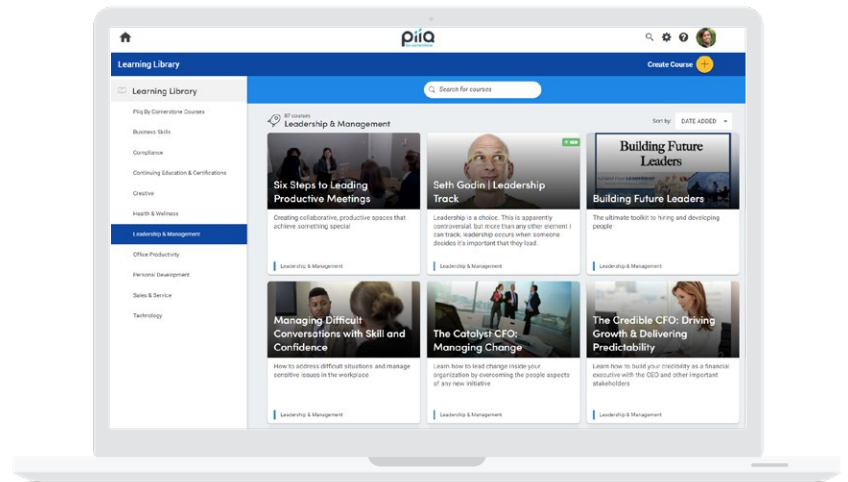

Continuously develop your employees with skills training they need to help your company outperform the competition, and meet any compliance requirements. Prepare for a changing business environment by helping employees to keep existing skills current and learn emerging skills.

Attract and retain world-class talent

Training and career development have quickly become table stakes benefits that modern candidates are seeking. Differentiate with a high-quality onboarding, development and learning program to bring in top candidates and develop them throughout their career with your company.

Support continuous learning by allowing your employees to browse and register for courses, providing a powerful opportunity for them to develop new skills and own their learning journey.
